Marcus Hultberg

Close to customers, with AI in my daily work

Since 2019 I have worked in client-facing roles in Gothenburg, mainly at IT and tech companies. In recruitment I was the main point of contact for candidates and clients, I built up onboarding at two companies, and at an HR tech company I developed course content for an HR system. Alongside my work I build my own tools with AI, without a background in programming, and I use Claude every day.
